Senator Anne Gobi appointed to CSG Eastern Regional Committee on Agriculture and NCSL Committee on Natural Resources and Infrastructure

BOSTON – Senator Anne Gobi (D-Spencer) was appointed by Senate President Stan Rosenberg (D-Amherst) to the committees on agriculture and on natural resources and infrastructure for the National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) and Council of State Governments (CSG). Senator Gobi will represent Massachusetts at national conferences with legislators from across the country to discuss issues facing our residents to share ideas, learn from lawmakers around the country and illustrate how the Commonwealth continues to be a leader among states.

“Congratulations to Senator Gobi on her appointment to both of these committees,” said Senate President Stan Rosenberg. “Senator Gobi’s intellect, work ethic, and experience will be a tremendous contribution.”

“NCSL and CSG have long been invaluable resources for state legislators,” said Sen. Gobi. “I am truly honored to have been appointed to these important committees and look forward to sharing ideas with my colleagues around the nation.”

Founded in 1975, the National Conference of State Legislatures is a national organization to support, defend and strengthen state legislatures. According to their website they have “helped states remain strong and independent by giving them the tools, information and resources to craft the best solutions to difficult problems.” NCSL has fought against unwarranted actions in Congress and saved states more than $1 billion.

The Council of State Governments is our nation’s only organization serving all three branches of state government. CSG is a region-based forum that fosters the exchange of insights and ideas to help state officials shape public policy. This offers unparalleled regional, national and international opportunities to network, develop leaders, collaborate and create problem-solving partnerships.
